"The ability for a user's activity on one site to be linked with their activity on another site without their knowledge or explicit consent."

- The design and Implementation of The Tor Browser

moz://a

Why Websites Want to Track

- For providing a more convenient service on their websites

- For delivering precise Ads

- For figuring out your personal interests

- For knowing better about website traffic

moz://a